BOX OFFICE REGULATIONS

Requests by mail for reservation of seats and boxes must be accompanied by cheque or money order.
For information as to seats telephone Plateau 2142-2.

The management reserves the right to refuse admission or seat to anyone in this theatre.

Any difficulties arising in respect to errors in tickets or sittings or any complaint should be referred to the Manager.

SUGGESTIONS TO PATRONS

Physicians and others who anticipate being called are requested to leave the number of their seat at the Box Office, where a call sheet is carefully compiled by the Treasurer for their convenience.

LOST DEPARTMENT

All articles found in the Theatre should be left at the Treasurer's Office where they will be restored to the owner. Enquiries intended for this department may also be directed there.

TELEPHONES PLATEAU 2141-2142

Every attache of the Orpheum Theatre is eager to lend every possible attention and courtesy to patrons. Any information required will be cheerfully given, and it is unnecessary to tender gratuities.

The management encourages their patrons reporting any inattention or indifferent treatment in any department. Such reports may be filed with the Manager. The lady patrons of this Theatre are respectfully requested to remove their hats during the performance.

STOP WORRYING!

After all, you want only three things in an investment:

1. Safety of principal.
2. A satisfactory income.
3. Profits through increase in value.

Collateral Trustee Shares of the New England Investment Trust Inc. are safe, because the investment is spread over 80 high-grade listed securities — Canadian Pacific Railway, American Telephone and Telegraph, Eastman Kodak, United States Steel, General Motors and the like; they yield about 7½%; in 2 years their principal value has increased 32%.

If you buy Collateral Trustee Shares your investment worries are over.

"Why Men Leave Home"

In connection with the presentation next week by the ORPHEUM.

Players of "Why Men Leave Home" the claim has been put forth that many newspaper critics contend that this is Avery Hopwood's best play. When the fact is taken into consideration that Mr. Hopwood was also responsible for "The Bat" this belief certainly bespeaks much for his later play "Why Men Leave Home". It is also claimed that Mr. Hopwood has tapped a virgin theme in the theatre. He has hit upon a topic so vital and so universal that every playwright has reason to chide himself that he or she had not thought of it — and at the same time Mr. Hopwood has brilliantly evolved a story of beauty and as brimful of good cheer and laughs as any bearing his name.

The story of "Why Men Leave Home" deals with a house party where the wives of three men and a young lady about to be engaged have returned from Europe following a rather gay social career. They are surprised to find their husbands have not been idly awaiting their coming, but have themselves endeavored to pass away the vacant hours as best as possible.

That they have not been idly dependent on the home coming at first shocks and then startles the women into a realization of their shortcomings. After much cross-purpose working has been endeavored and carried forth, the result brings about the general reunion but not without a few well-merited lessons in domesticity, which is certain to be highly enjoyed and appreciated by local theatre patrons. "Why Men Leave Home" is one of the best comedies ever presented here, and promises to break all records.
